Send developer notice for Sample app (Android)

We have generated the message that you can send to Sample company to inform them of the suspected violations and give them the opportunity to remedy them.

Click the button to send the message using your own email and come back afterwards. Make sure to include the following one-time email address in the BCC field:

notice-58efd809-326b-4bbd-b9ee-34900c536c89@upload.tweasel.org

Send email yourself

Why do we need this? If Sample company doesn't actually remove the tracking within the 60 day deadline you have given them, you can send a complaint to the data protection authorities and ask them to intervene. In this case, you will need to attach the previous communication with Sample company.

Alternatively, you can also upload your sent email as an EML or PDF file.

How to contact the DPA about Sample app (Android)?

There are two ways you can ask the data protection authorities to look into Sample app (Android):

1. You can send a formal complaint. The DPA will have to investigate this complaint and inform you of the outcome.

However, to do so, you will need to prove that you are also personally affected by the tracking. We can guide you through this process, but it will require a bit of effort and technical knowledge.

2. Alternatively, you can informally ask them to check the app. This does not require any additional effort by you but the DPA will also not be legally required to investigate the complaint or tell you what they did.
